Extend Care Beyond the Home Visit.

Gain greater visibility into patient conditions between scheduled visits, identify concerning changes earlier, and explore opportunities to deliver more connected care at home.

Complimentary Connected Care & RPM Readiness Assessment

A $1,500 Value | Provided at No Cost

Home health agencies already provide essential care in patients' homes. But what happens between visits? Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM) creates opportunities to extend visibility into patient health, support earlier intervention, and strengthen care coordination.

Premier Wireless' complimentary assessment helps home health organizations identify where RPM could add value, uncover potential clinical and operational challenges, and explore practical approaches to implementation.

What We'll Assess

Patient Opportunity

Identify patients who could benefit most from monitoring between visits, including those transitioning home from the hospital or managing chronic conditions.

Current Care Model

Evaluate how changes in patient conditions are identified between scheduled visits and where additional monitoring could help.

Workflow & Staffing

Explore who would review patient readings, respond to alerts, and coordinate care with physicians and other healthcare providers.

Technology & Connectivity

Identify potential barriers involving device setup, connectivity, and patient technology requirements, including options that don't rely on smartphones or home Wi-Fi.

Patient Adoption

Evaluate how patients and caregivers would be introduced to monitoring devices, trained, and supported throughout participation.

Financial & Organizational Readiness

Explore program ownership, operational resources, funding considerations, and potential partnership models with referring physicians and health systems.
